ASIA BASED ASIA FOCUSED

Qualitas Project Control (QPC) was founded by award-winning, 35 year industry veteran, Sam Sakocius, as an elite advisory and development consultancy.

QPC clients include international Real Estate Developers, Private Owners, Private Golf Clubs and Designers.

Qualitas is renowned as a global expert in all aspects of project development and specializes in the technical aspects of functionality, design quality and feasibility, efficiency, and technical soundness over the course of planning, design, and implementation of a project

Qualitas' specific region of operations is SE Asia with projects in six countries. By reputation, Qualitas has become the region's leading consultancy with its personalized and inspired innovations crossing new borders each year.

Having worked in cooperation with some of the world's top, developers, planners, architects, engineers, and builders for over 30 years, Qualitas brings an unsurpassed network of global talent across a complete range of proficiencies which projects of the highest standards demand.

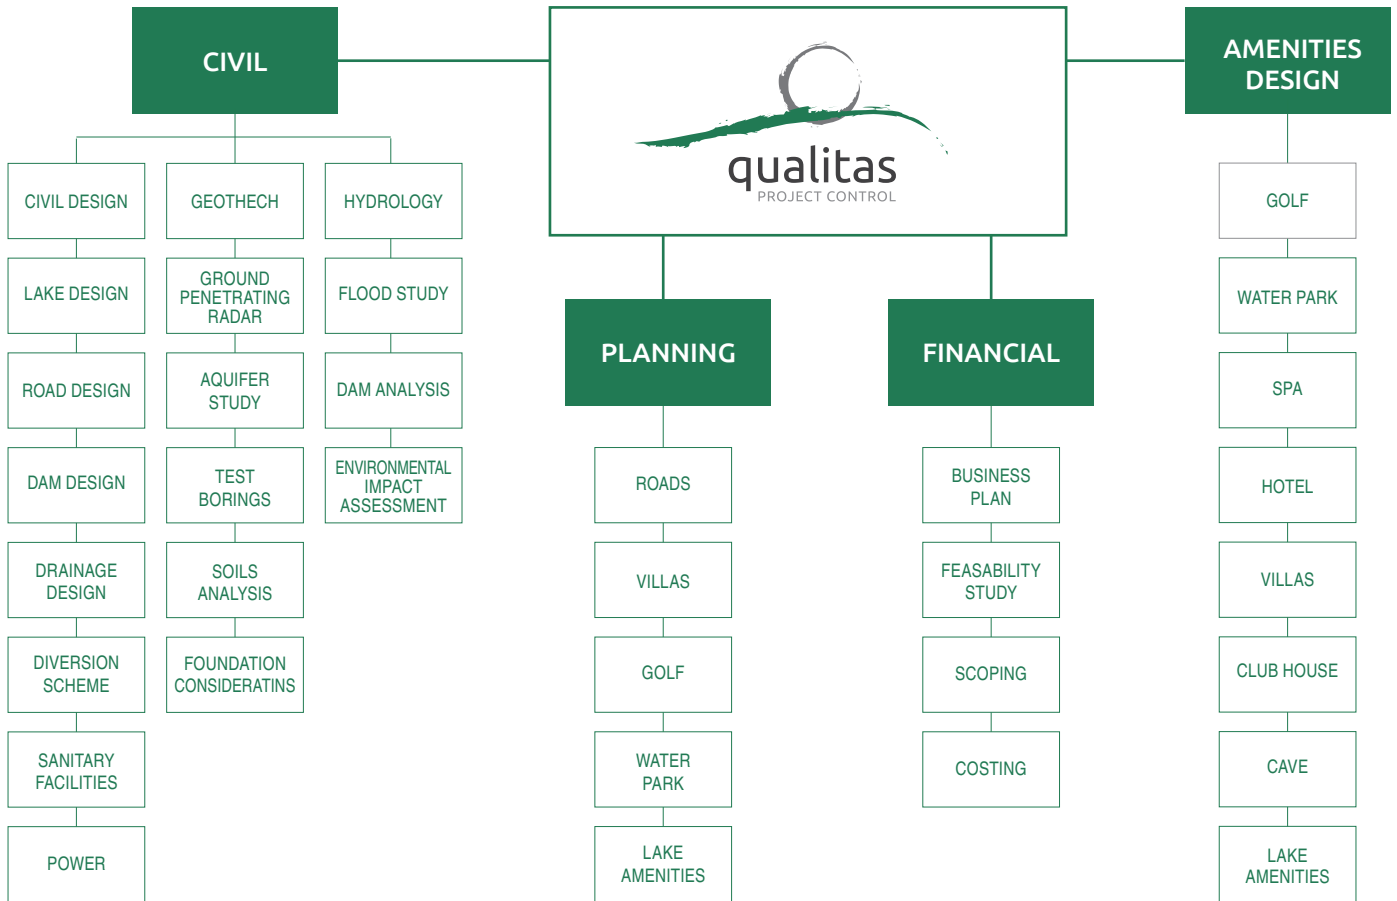

CONSULTS TO ASIA

Qualitas advises clients on issues ranging from the navigation of government policy and environment issues, the selection and management of the best feasibility and land planning partners through all design and construction phases, ensuring that each team operates in cooperation with all other teams and in accordance with international standards and best practices while respecting the regional cultures.

Qualitas is known for not only sourcing the most qualified professionals in their respective industries, but for customizing each team and program to achieve maximum results. Qualitas is also respected for its skill in flawlessly orchestrating all teams, budgets, and schedules so that there is no overlap or places where important details fall through the cracks.
